Larger Groups

For Team Building, Corporate/Club Outings, Family Events and Hen/Stag Parties

We also cater for larger groups and can tailor days to suit your individual requirements. Although the hot-shop glassblowing sessions are limited to a maximum of eight persons at a time, we can organise a programme where other activities are included such as glass fusing, lampworking and sandcasting. Groups can be divided into teams to work in separate areas experiencing a variety of glassmaking techniques. This works well as a team-building activity or a club outing and for hen/stag days or larger families. This way a maximum of 16 can attend.

Glassblowing is an excellent activity to really push the limits of both individuals and groups, encouraging confidence and team building skills, while learning an ancient, over 2000 year's old practice. Our highly skilled staff will coordinate and manage each team of four (we can have 2 teams of 4), and each person will take turns at being the 'master' glassblower who makes an object of their own design and colour from the molten glass. We need at least two assistants for the 'master' so everyone has the opportunity at leading and assisting.

Suggested Group Options

Option A: 4 people. Each person will make: a bauble or a paperweight, a tumbler and a vase, or choose a bespoke *project. Cost: £620 (£155 per person +VAT).

Option B: 8 people. Each person will make: a bauble or a paperweight, a tumbler and a vase, or choose a bespoke *project. Cost: £620 (£155 per person +VAT).

Option C: 6 people. Each person will make: a fused glass panel, tile or some jewellery; a glass bead; a bauble or paperweight, and a small sandcast object. Cost: £1600 (£100 per person +VAT).

Schools & Colleges

For Educational Activities & Demonstrations

Suggested activities

In the Hot-Shop: The glass hub team will demonstrate making a wine glass and allow the students to 'blow' some glass; make small sandcast objects and a torch-worked bead, to be collected or posted from the following day. This is an interactive but demonstration-led session and we can create bespoke sessions for your *projects e.g. 'Roman glass'. Cost: £150 per hour. Up to 10 in a group.

Kiln Working: This will start with a small video presentation about glass, and how it's made. Children will assemble coloured fusible sheet glass to make a glass tile of their own design, using inclusions and glass 'frits'. This can also be theme-based and tie in with the school curriculum. Cost: £100 per hour. Up to 10 in a group.

Larger Classes: For larger classes of up to 30 students, please contact us for further information. This would be demonstration-led, and we would use all glassmaking areas.
